PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I have spent the last three years doing the two hardest things in growth: building demand from zero and making broken systems work under pressure. I have driven key workstreams behind Rs 12 Cr+ in government sales revenue, negotiated Rs 117 Cr plus in global procurement, and founded two D2C brands from scratch. I think in first principles, execute with urgency, and build the frameworks that let growth outlast me. I am now looking to bring that same builder's instinct to a high-growth organization, turning strategy into acquisition, retention, and category-defining outcomes.
